A LONDON EDITION OF ST. NICHOLAS.

We take pleasure in announcing that we have arranged to issue an edition of St. Nicholas in London. We feel that St. Nicholas will not suffer by comparison with any publication of its kind on the other side of the Atlantic, and that it should receive as grateful a welcome in England as it has in America. From the fathers and mothers, and the children themselves; from literary men, critics, clergymen, and the newspaper press all over this country, have come to us the warmest words of praise.

John G. Whittier, our Quaker Poet, seems only to express the universal sentiment, when he writes: "It is little to say of ST. NICHOLAS that it is the est Child's Periodical in the world,"

The New York Tribune utters but the verdict of the american Press, when it says: "In the avalance of immoral literature that threst-ens the children, some strong, really wholesome, and really attractive Magazine is required for them, and Sr. Nickolas has reached a higher platform, and commands for this service wider resources than any of its predecessors or contemporaries."

He saw instead the honest faces of men who pay and do not eat taxes. A visitor would have searched in vain for a gambler, a faro-dealer, or a bunko-roper in the assembly. Mike McDonald and Corcoran were not present, and Jim Appleton was not a candidate. The thieves also were absent. They were not recognized as friends or patronized by yesterday's. Convention. To put the case justly, it may be said that there was never a convention in the City of Chicago so free from the bummer element as yesterday's.

convention. There was, of course, some arcisement and loud talk, as there is in every contest, but nothing which refused to give way to the club which Mr. Snerwood welded as a gavel. What canvassing was done in the half was comparatively orderly, and there was at no time any crowding up of the sisles and seats, as at the other Convention. The stemilance of delegates was general, and few vacancies were allied by the Convention. The total representation should have been 16s, but no delegates were present from the Towns of Hanover, Leyden, Shaumberg, and Rich, and this left 16s votes, which were all cast in several cases.

PRELIMINARY PROCEEDINGS. OBGANIZATION AND ELECTION JUDGES.

After the delegates had all arrived in the hall, and nearly all taken their seats, Col. Louis Schaffner, Chairman of the Ceotral Committee, called the Convention to order and said:

In accordance with this suggestion the following amendment was added to the resolution:

The amendment, and then the resolution, were adopted by the Convention.

The Chairman then appointed as the Committee to confer with the Board of Commissioners, Messra, B. G. Gill, G. J. Williams, John Mullins, H. B. Bogne, and H. B. Hurd.

R. M. Woods, of the Fifth Ward, moved that each delegation have power to fill vacancies in its numbers. So ordered by the Convention.

On motion of Mr. Mullen, it was decided to make the first ballot for County Treasurer an informal one.

Mr. John Schmeltt, of the Eighth Ward, moved that all candidates applying for office come before the Convention and pledge thomselves to do their duty according to law if elected. [Applause.]

Capt. Harrington opposed the motion as uncalled for. They should have confidence enough in their candidates to place them on the ticket without requiring a pledge.

Mr. Mitchell spoke strongly in favor of the resolution. No candidate who wished to aid in the inauguration of upright and honest government would object to give such a pledge.

Kr. Aid, Gill opposed the resolution as entirely uncalled for. It was not to be supposed that, as an intelligent body of men, they would nominate men of unknown character. Their candidates would be men whose names would be guarantees of their character and ability. [Cheers]. He moved to by the motion on the table.

The motion to table prevailed by a large majority.

Mr. Whitney moved to proceed with nomina tions for County Treasurer, and that the first ballot be informal. Carried.

Mr. John Lyle King then took the floor and said: I desire to nominate as candidate of the Republican party for Treasurer of this county a centleman who is known to us as an old citizen, gentieman who is known to be as an old citizen, an honest man, an intelligent and capable man, a life-long Republican, and a man who came up to his friend's (Mr. Schmeitz's) standard, who had enough of his own to live on, without living on the public,—Clark Lipe. who had not been nominated.

Mr. Murry Nelson rose to a point of order. He thought it out of order to vote for a candidate who had not been nominated. He would his to see a man stand up and nominate Judge McAllister in a Republican Convention.

Mr. John Lvie King (jumping to his feet)—

Well, then, I will do it; and if anybody asks who is the best Republican, I will turn round and ask who is the best Republican, I will turn round and ask who is the best Judge.

Mr. King was proceeding to make a speech in behalf of Judge acallister, when he was greeted with cries of min favor, who was then allowed a snort time for orating. He said: As a Rejublican, I presume my record will compare with that of any one, either in length of time or in fidelity to the party. [a voice, "infidelity," and loud laughter.] He went on to say that Judge McAllister was favored by a large majority of the Republican members of the Bar. If it was more honorable to elect a Republican than an able and competent Judge they had the power to do it, but he degreeated the introduction of partisan considerations in the distribution of judicial honors, and urged the degree to the first party judge Anallister had all the attributes of manhood, and had the head as well as the neart to fill the position satisfactorily. were intent observers of yesterday's Convention. All readily saw at a glance that it was within the power of the Republican party to elect or defeat the Hesing ticket accordingly as they nominated good or medicere men. While several of the cool, calculating men of the party pretended indifference towards the entire Republican party, their looks sadly belied them, and on every face and from every tongue one could easily see traces of fear that the Republicans were going to pan out remarkably well. Such of these as visited the Convention were fully satisfied by one look at the character and composition of that body that none but the best men could receive a nomination at its hands. So noticeable and indisputable was this fact that not one of them has been heard to gainsay it. But this did not keep them from ridiculing the ticket, and so, when the nominations were made known around fown, the various Opposition headquarters were all agog with levity, and boastings about Hesing having a free field. Keeley is well known to be developing unusual strength in the country districts and in many of the words of the city. His strength comes chiefly from the Irish, and so serious is the defection already that Mr. Hesing is making herculean attempts to win them back. Thus far his efforts have been miserable failures; Keeley is as solid among the Irish voters as "Muldoon," With the nomination of Louis Huck, Hesing's German votes will grow beautifully less until the day of election, and it would not be at all surprising, some say, to see Mr. Huck carry every German district in the city. Special Dispatch to the Chicago Iribune.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—Gov. Stewart L. Woodford, who has just returned from Obio, says that inflation is by no means dead. He is certain that its friends are as succere as ware the Southerners for slavery and disunion, and they will fight to the bitter end. The recent election shows their strength, and they will do their best to capture the National Democratic Convention and elect an Inflation President.
The hard-money Democrats are about balanced by the soft-money Republicans. Notwithetanding Thurman is for an bouest currency, he worked for the election of his Uncle Allen, after whom he is named.
Mr. Woodford thinks the two great political parties of the country will be divided until the financial question is settled, A great change has taken place since Allen's defeat. Two weeks ago the Western people were med. "Paper money" was the cry everywhere, and the more enthusiastic supporters of Allen seemed to have lost their sense. They are somewhat sobered, but are still determined, and a desperste struggle may be looked for next year. The Governor considers Judge Keiley perfectly sincere, like most of the other inflation leaders, and this is way

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Ohio election-a close shave, but a clean one. - Washington Chronicle.

The fate of Mr. Phillips about this time, says an exchange, reminds us of Capt. Cuttle's com-pliment to his friend Jack Bunsby: "Here's a man what has been more banged about the head than any other man living."

Senator Thurman, with all his weaknesses, sometimes utters a profound thought. His latest is to the effect that it is doubtful whether the time will ever come when a Presidential aspirant can try to stop a pile-driver without getter washed. Finally, a construction of the control of the cont ting smashed.—Brooklyn Argus. The Ohio canvass, with its sequences, has de-

The Onio canvass, with its sequences, has de-termined the drift and policy of the two parties. By the irresistible logic of events, the Repub-lican party has become the party of sound cur-rency. mistakable.—Albany Journal.

There is no doubt that the inflationists in Pennsylvania felt greatly encouraged when they learned that hard-money had carried Ohio by only about 4,000 majority, instead of 20,000 or 30,000 as at first reported. The Washington Sentinel (Democratic) is admonishes them to con their primers:

The Washington Sentine! (Democratic) admonishes them to con their primers:

Our defeated Western statesmen oweit to themselves to pay right away some attention to by them appeared by despised "book l'arning." Let them study our Treasury caporis and read good works on national economy, and the "d—d barren ideality" will soon become a "reality," and they will no longer follow such gods as Ben Buller, Wendell Phillips, Reiley, etc. If Senstor Gordon would from now till the meeting of Congress do the same, we feel assbeed that even to him his last letter in resily to ex-Senator Schurz will appear very "funny," indeed.

The statement that a number of Catholic voters refused to yote for Allen and inflation because the Telegraph—the Church organ at Cincinnati—had pledged their votes in rejayment of the Gaghan bill, is confirmed by the New York States-Zeitung, which eavs:

The returns from the election in that State show that the clergy, with all their pains, exerted no remarkable influence over the mass of voters. On the contrary, it looks as if the rash and fanatical conduct of the priests, and their officious meddling in politics, roused the stubbornness of a good many Catholics, and made them resolve to support the Republican ticket in syste of the Church.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican thus estimates the force of the great Democratic principles involved;

If all the votes cast for Allen and Cary in Ohio were flavored with inflation and repudiation, the business would be serious enough as it is. In that case, so small a majority on the right side in so large a vote would be justly discouraging and alarming. Fortunately, the fact is not nearly so bad as it looks. We are probably well within bounds in assuming that one-quarier of these votes were cast by hard-money Democrats, who concluded with poor Mr. Thurman that the "duty" of standing by the party was paramount. Of the remaining votes it is equally ask to assume that a clear majority were east by men who had no definite

The opinion that the Ohio canvass was but the opening of the fight is shared by the Spring field (Mass.) Union, which says:

Those who fancy that the defeat of the inflation Democracy in Ohio by 5,000 majority has dissipated the danger of an inflation, plank in the Democratic platform next year, should remember that the stumning majority of 100,000 which Ohio gave against Copperbeadism in 18-3 did not avail to keep a Copperhead plank out of the McChellan platform. Dean Richmond, who was then as powerful in the Democracy as Tilden is now, in vain opposed its admission. There could be no folly olinder than the idea that the bere defeat of inflation in Ohio, on Tuesday, is likely to convert the Democratic party from the error of its way, and make it a trustworthy custodian of the financial interests of the pation.

Mr. William Allen has retired with a wet. The opinion that the Ohio capvass was but the dial interests of the nation.

Mr. William Allen has retired with a wet cloth wound roun this heated brow, and Samuel Cary—speaking of Cary reminds us of the meditative lumberman who bought two raw oysters and had them wrapped up in a paper. Said the wondering saloon-keeper, as he handed over the parcel, "What on earth yer goin' ter do with 'em?" "Well, yer see," and 'the lumberman, "I'm goin' up tor Oshkosh ter night ter hev some fun with the boys, 'n I've most always noticed 't ther's nothin' so good for takin' out inflammation 's a raw 'l'ster." Samuel Cary has had much experience with "the boys." We suspect he bought the raw oveters at the beginning of this "jamboree," and that he is lying on his back somewhere now with one on each eye.—

PROSPECT OF AN INDIAN WAR.
Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.
Sloux City, Ia., Oct. 19.—A Washington letter to the Sioux City Times received to day from Charles Collina states that there is no doubt that a general Indian war will be inaugurated this fall. The Indians are generally dissatisfied and it is a matter of regret with them that they did not commones then by killing the Commissioners. Mr. Collins says Gea. Crock, commander of the Department of the Platte, has for some time been preparing for a conflict with the Indians, and will be ready when the necessity

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS The sixth annual report of the Board of In-dian Commissioners, for the year 1874, has just been published, and is a clearly-printed book of over 150 pages. Most of this space is occupied with reports of Agents and Sub-Agents, which show, as nearly as ex-parte statement by those interested in making a good showing can be ex-pected to, the condition of the Indian tribes and the Indian service generally throughout the

It is stated that not less than 75,000 Indians are supported by the Government, without cen-tributing in any manner to aid in this support, or to repay the munificance exceeded. and the discussion of the best means of reducing it, and, per sequence, the immense exper necessary in keeping it up, is one well worth while considering. Education and labor are well laid down as the principal means by which the Indian may become self-supporting; and, al-though it appears that there have been several Congressional enactments requiring children to be sent to school and able-bodied men to perform service, it seems that, in many of the more important tribes, these provisions are only nominally observed, or else utterly ignored for it is well known that the school-teachers on anything, any more than their head-farmers cultivate farms, or their millers run milis.

Although the requirements of the treaties with the Sioux, Kiowas, Comanches, Cheyennes, Arapahoes, and other bands, are plain on these points, the Agents report themselves powerless to enforce the obligations assumed. The Board think that, if the Government had insisted upon compliance with these obligations, even by the

the Indian problem would now be solved; especially if it were made a condition upon which they should participate in the benefactions of she Government. This is undoubtedly true; but it is also true that it would require no triding amount of force to carry out these provisions, if we may judge by the temper of the 5,000 naked warriors who circled around our Black Hills Commission in its season at Red Cloud the other day, and the performances of "Little-Bad-Man," who gave the Commission to understand that he didn't need to have a chip even knocked off his shoulder to provoke him and his braves to make crow-must, of the Crow-Butte Council.

favor of the establishment of an Indian constability force on all the reservations.

The need of an efficient regulation governing

THE CHARACTER AND COMPENSATION OF AGENTS is also discussed, and the recommendation made that the Fresident be authorized, in his discretion, to increase their compensation according to the nature of the work performed and the responsibility attaching to their disbursements.

The report is evidently propared with the purpose of impressing the views entertained by the members of the Board upon the National Congress which is about to assemble, as the discussions gress which is about to assemble, as the discussion of Indian affairs is one that is likely to be a prominent feature at the approaching session.

CONSTANTINOPLE. Oct. 2.—An Imperial Irade dated to-day has been published ordering that agricultural populations who attend to their work peacefully shall be beempted fortiwith from a fourth part of the titnes recombly imposed. It is, moreover, enacted that the various communities are to be represented in the Administrative Council of the Provinces by persons of their choice who are really in possession of their confidence. All wishes expressed by them within the limits of legality and good sense are to be received with attention by the Government. Deputations from the annual feberal assemblies are authorized to come to Constantinopie to submit their wishes to the Government.

In addition, persons of consideration in their respective communities are to be summoned from time to time to Constantinople, and information thus obtained is to serve as a basis for reforms and evantual modifications of the laws to be adopted for promoting the general well-being and prosperity of the country. Agents and special controllers are to be no loinfold to assure the apportionment and collection of taxes in conformity with the law.

The Irade concludes by stating that a system is at present under consideration which is of a character to satisfy the populations and to guarantee to them just treatment by means of a conversion of the tithes into a land tax. The Government is likewise engaged in discussing the best way of placing the various taxes upon a uniform fiscal fooling. The gradual realization of the reforms and others relating to the police is decided upon.

A troop was sent to the hullside forest in pursuit of the second priest, but he was not found until a day or two after, when hunger forced him to stray into a neighboring village. A guard was sent for and the unfortunate priest was brought into Berbir half dead from wounds and with a huge iron collar around his nech. He was thrown into a filthy dungeon and was not even given food. He seemed likely to starve before his tormenters should decide to kill him.

At this juncture the Austran Consul at Berbir heard of the priest's horrible treatment. Segon—the opacing argument for the complainant, the examined the facts in the case as regarded the discrete of the made in the books and their insufficiency. He was followed un the same side by Mr. F. H. Sales, who conduced himself more particularly to the legal questions involved. Considering as a question of power, the Commissioners were authorized to contract for ur order attracts to be made when these count be due from conting records, and then only in the cases where the records were complete, so that a connected chain could be made from the Land-Office down. When the records had been in whole or part destroyed, the case was not covered by the law until the destroyed records had been restored in the manner provided by law, as in the case of the Burnt Records law. And such purchase could only be made, in any case, on the approval of the Judges, which had not been done in the present instance. If the Board had power to present socks did not comply with the presenthed form, and contained a large amount of work for which the county had paid beyond July 1, 1874, but to which time only the county was authorized to procure actorized to be made. The affidavia showed that the additional work for the hat year and a half was inseparable from what had been done previously. There was manifest frand also in the purchase, as the books had been offered previously for $20,000. The bild of Haddock, Over & Co, was also misrepresented as being $20,000, when it was $45,000. The tild, too, was not good, as Haddock, Cos & Co, claimed an interest in the books. There was no implied warranty on the part of the sellers, and if the titis proved bad the county would be obliged to bear the loss. The Commissioners were not authorized in any case to buy such a stile.

The argument was not concluded, but will be closed this morning by Mr. Tuley. Measrs. Johnston, Rogers, and Appleton, and F. M. Rales appeared for the complainant, and J. M. Bountree F. Lac

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.

FORT WAINE, Ind., Oct. 19.—An important case was decided in the Circuit Court here today. Last winter an old bachelor named Étisha Baldwin died, leaving his property valued at $40,000, to be divided equally between the American Board of Commissioners of Foreign Missions and the Home Missionary Society. The brothers and sister of the deceased brought suit to have the will set aside, on the grounds that the testator was not of sound mind when the will was executed. Judge Carson decided the case in plaintiffs' favor and ordered the will to be set aside.

A Diver Fixed by a Shark.
Son Francisco Ledoir.
In 1851 James Carton, a stevedore, while warping the ship Genesee to a berth off Market street wharf lost an anchor. "On Deck" was the only diver except Bill Matthews then known in the city, and was sent for to recover the anchor.

On Deck complied, and white so cogness noticed a shark hovering a few feet above him, evidently observing his increments. The fish was at least is feet long and was moorn as the shark hind. The discovery naturally alarmed the diver. He had found the suchor, made a cable fast to is, and was about ascending when the appearance of the shark made him pause. He had heard that charks did not molect mee in armor. He doubted this, and did not feel now like risking the experiment. He moved a few paces from the auchor—the shark moved too. He returned to his former place—the shark followed. He was evidently, to use his own words, "spotted by the botsic nose for a supper," and, unless signally favored, would fall a victim to fits voracity. He hardly here how to act, when he thought of the cuttle-fish; how that singular creature often escapes its enemies by darkening the water with an inky liquor ejected from its body. He accordingly stirred up the mud at the bottom til the water was darkened around him, cast off his weights, and signaled the man to haul him up. He was hailed up immediately, but did not entirely escape. The shark soapped at him as he ascended, and three of his toes were taken off. A little more and his foot would have gone, a stout boot only saving it. The happy thought of muddying the water saved his life.

Pere Hyacinthe has just published his sermons at Geneva. They contain the explanation so long asked of his real creed. He takes as text of his faith four maxims—one from St. Augustine, "In things necessary we must have unity; in things doubtful, liberty; in all things, charity." One from Montalembert, "The Jeauits are a hateful sect, which in these times tyrannizes and makes profit out of Catholicism." One from M. Revan, "I can't say of the Catholic Church what Joo said of God, 'Even though He kill me, in Him will I hope." And last, a passage from Pere Gratry's treatises on the latest Council, "They filmshed with a coup d'etat what they began with an ambuscade."

Wednesday Morning, October 20, 1875

Greenbacks at the New York Gold Ex change yesterday opened at 85% and clo 853, -the two extremes of the day.

Iowa is to have a Bishop. The strong movement of the minority to prevent the consecration of Dr. Eccleston, who was elected to the Episcopate at the last Diocesan Convention, has been unsuccessful, a majority of the Standing Committees having given their consent to his consecration.

Contractor McCann, who was numbered among the seriously wounded in the recent engagement between the Red Cloud Investigating Commission and the Indian Ring. threatens to become a disagreeable invalid. He accuses the Commission of having surpassed Prof. Marsh in relying largely rsay evidence, and promi wherein the report was weak.

The Indian question is likely to claim the serious attention of the next Congress, if, indeed, as our dispatches foreshadow, a general war does not break out before Congress embles. We publish elsewhere a synop of the sixth annual report of the Board of Indian Commissioners for 1874, in which it is shown that lazy paupers of the copperplored persuasion to the number of 75,000 are now on the Government free-list, doing absolutely nothing for their own support. The Commissioners strongly urge that the the men be compelled to work for a living, and that the children be forced to attend sin has been the scene of a lynching affair. Two brothers who were in jail at Stevens Point awaiting their trial for the murder of the Sheriff of the county were from their cells at night by a body of armed men, and hung to a tree until dead. While there may have been no room for doubt as to the guilt of the prisoners, yet the fact that there was not lacking the most ample guarantee that they would be duly ried, convicted, and punished in the regular course of law renders the lynching wholly in defensible, and makes the mob which took the law into its own hands guilty of a coldblooded, outrageous crime, for which they should be rigorously held to account.

A peculiarity of yesterday's Republica County Convention must have attracted the notice of lookers-on. It was the manifesta tion among the delegates generally of a deep ons sense of the responsibility place upon them-that of making up the best posticket, regardless even of person predilections. It was not a gathering oliticians, and there was a remarkable absence of wire-pulling, log-rolling, trading, In the main the delegates came unpledged to any man for any office, and the were actuated by a sincere and earnes regard for the best interests of the party and of the people of Cook County. h being the motive, the admirable result is not to be wondered at. The ticket is in every way so strong and so manifestly excellent that honest and respectable Democratican accept it readily, and can support it as heartily as though they had themselves had a hand in making the nominations. The ticket will improve upon acquaintance, and will furnish the Opposition plunder-hunters grave grounds for uneasiness lest their anti walk-over should prove to be a walk-under.

The Chicago produce markets were unse tled yesterday, the leading cereals being weak. Mess pork was quiet and 5@15c pe brl higher, closing at $21.60@21,65 for October and $18.95 seller the year. Lard was in petter demand and stronger, closing at 73.70@13.75 per 100 ths cash, $13.60 for Oc ober, and $12.25 seller the year. Meat were quiet, at 81@81c for summer shoulders (boxed), 124c for short ribs do, and 13c fo short clear do. Highwines were quiet and steady at $1.18} per gallon. Lake were quiet and strong, at 3 c for wheat t Flour was in light demand an easier. Wheat was more active and 13@3c lower, closing at $1.10 seller the month, and ovember. Corn was active and her and 32c f ng at 334e for Octo Rye was steady at 721@730. was quiet and steadier, closing at 97e quiet and averaged 10c lower, closing weak, at $7.40@7.75 for common to mod grades Cattle were active and unchanged, with sales at $2.50@6.25. Sheep were in fair demand and steady. On Saturday evening last there was in store in this city 822,935 bu wheat, 1,022,524 bu corn, 346,975 bu cats, 99,361 bu rye, and 250,141 bu barléy. One hundred dollars in gold would buy $116.62 in green backs at the close.

The Republicans in convention yesterday did a very wise thing in selecting a commit tee whose duty it shall be to go before the County Board and demand the appointment of a Republican judge in each election pre cinct, and, in case of refusal, in determining to appoint committees to watch each poll and prevent illegal voting and ballot-box stuffing. The Committee should waste no time, but go promptly before the Board and make its demand briefly and imperatively. If that demand is not complied with, it is proof positive that the Devil-Fish party intends to stu the ballot-boxes and carry the election by fraud. No other inference can be drawn. It then becomes the duty of the Republicans to exercise the right of vigilantly guarding every poll in the city, and protect the purity of the ballot-box against the attacks of the bummers. It is equally important that the name of the Commissioners who vote to stuff the ballot-boxes and to deprive the minority of their right to representation should be placed upon record for future reference.

The appointment of Zacharian Chandler, ex-Senator from Michigan, as Secretary of the Interior, may occasion some surprise among those who have believed him to be unpopular with his party. This unpopularity, however, 'was mainly in Michigan and of re eent growth. It came from what was coneived to be an arbitrary and personal use of his patronage, rather with a view to his own ment than that of his party. It was this feeling against Mr. CHANDLER that led to the disaffection in the party which defeated him and elected Judge Christiancy last year. But, during the three terms he served in the United States Senate, there was no man in that body personally more popular, uniformly more devoted to the Government. or of an integrity more universally recog nized. It is the latter quality which renders Mr. CHANDLER peculiarly fitted for the management of the Interior Department, in which there have been more abuses of late years than in any other department of the General Government. Mr. CHANDLER has been honest all his life long, and there is no temptation for him to be otherwise at this late day and with a large personal fortune, nor to countenance dishonesty in others. He is also in full sympathy with the Republican party on the currency question,-being unimpromisingly in favor of sound money, There is only one point in which he may dif-fer with the Cabinet as now organized, and that is with reference to the treatment of Southern politics. In his position, however, this question will not cut much figure, and Mr. CHANDLES will, on the whole, be a useful and harmonious member of Gen. GRANT's reorganized Cabinet day took the first great step towards success by nominating a ticket that deserves the support of every respectable citizen of whatever party or nationality. It submitted to the people a ticket composed throughout of men of the highest personal character,-men well known for their honesty, responsibility, personal respectability, and competency for the duties of the several offices for which they are named.

The nominee for County Treasurer is Mr. Louis Huck, a well-known and respected merchant, who, as was said in the Conven tion, has a sufficiency of substantial means of his own, and will not be tempted to use any portion of the public money to pay his debts, or to take any more compensation than the nearly all his life, and has ability, and integrity, and an unblemished character to com mend him to the public confidence.

For Clerk of the Superior Court, Capt. JOHN J. HEALY is commended by his experience, his ability, his integrity, and his The nominees for County Cor are MURRY NELSON, C. G. AYRES, JOHN JONES JOHN TABOR, and JOHN HUMPHREY.

Of these. Mr. Nerson is named for the place so long and ably filled by Mr. CLOUGH, who peremptorily declined a re-election. Mr. Nelson will prove a most valuable suc pessor. Mr. Jones is at present a member of the Board. The other gentlemen are to be elected in districts outside of the city. We submit that there is a wide room for choice between Murby Netson and John Jones on the one hand and MIKE MULLOY and PAT CLEARY on the other.

The Convention, wisely excluding politics, nominated Judges GABY and MCALLISTER fo the judicial offices. To these two Judges here will be no opposition. We invite the attention of the public to lose comparison of the two lists of candilates: The one nominated last Friday by mob of gamblers, thieves, pinps, and loafers, and fitly representing the constituency that nominated them; the other nominated by a Convention composed of merchants, and men of character and substance, and which as fitly represent their constituents. It should be remembered, however, that candidates who are not ballot-box stuffers cannot elect themselves. To elect them require votes. All those who so justly grieve over corrupt and wretched local Government have n these candidates nominated yesterday an opportunity to have a portion of our local Will they turn out on election day and vote or will they permit the election to go by default? If the respectable and substantial voters of this county will all take the time to vote on election day, Mr. HUCK and Mr. NELSON and their associates can be elected by many thousands of majority. We implore all legal voters to do their duty to the and to each other by a full turnout on elecion day.

One of the constitutional amendments arried at the Ohio election provides for the stablishment of an "auxiliary" Supreme Court. In 1860 the Legislature att to brush away the mass of technical rul that hindered the administration of justice by the adoption of a code simplifyin procedure. But the rubbish having Judges and threst into the code by judicial legislation, the mischief has grown so intolerable that the extra auxiliary Suhas to be established to dispose of the docker for the past decade or two, in order that the regular Supreme Court may be enabled to the law-suits of the present generation. It is a significant illustration of the that already outcry is made against the amend-ment just adopted because it does not permanently establish the auxiliary Supreme Court, but limits its continuance to three out of every ten years,—so that for all practical purposes for seven years in each decade the Su-preme Court of the State will be left clogged and closed to suitors.

BUTLER'S INACCURACIES. speeches in arguing the impossibility of main-taining specie payments, declared that the Bank of England had suspended specie payments on frequent occasions since 1823. To the errors of this statement Mr. Schuzz called public attention. But Mr. BENJAMIN BUTLER, in his carefully-prepared speech re-cently delivered in New York, repeated the same statements, which, by the way, have been repeated from time to time by all the inflation orators and writers.

In 1797, the Government, being then in debt to the Bank to the extent of the whole capital of the institution, and being engaged in the great Continental wars whi vailed during nearly the whole period of the Napoleonic dynasty, had to borrow money, and therefore, by order of Council, forbid the Bank to pay out any more specie. An increased issue of notes followed. The French wars did not cease until the fall of Napoleon in 1815. Immediate steps were taken to resume specie payments, and the date fixed was in May, 1823. The Bank on that day resumed specie payments, and has never suspended such payments to this day, covering period of over fifty years.

The Bank charter was renewed in 1844, and the new Bank law provided a department of issue in the Bank, which department issued to the Bank all the notes for use. The Bank is allowed bank notes to the amount of fourteen millions of pounds, for which it deposits with the issue lepartment securities, public and private. Beyond this sum the Bank was not authorized to receive bank notes from the issue department except on deposit of an equal amount of gold. All otes were payable on demand in gold. In 1847 the Government suspended much of this act as required the Bank to deposit gold with the issue department for the notes put in circulation beyond the prescribed limit. In 1857 the law was suspended again, and was a third sus-pended in 1866. These were not suspensions of specie payments, nor were they authority to do so. On the contrary, as the Bank could not increase its issue of notes without placing beyond its control an equal amount of gold, the suspension authorized it to increase the amount of its notes and thus enlarge its discounts, at the same time keeping in the Bank for active use its specie.

The Bank never suspended specie paynents. The "suspensions" were simply of the law which restricted its discounts at the very time they were most needed. Now, contrast these facts with BUTLER's bold asser

Between the 7th of September, 1844, the date- of the Bunk act, and Feb. 4, 1858, the Bank altered her rate of discount fifty-six times, raising it from time to time from 2 to 10 per cent, thus quintupling her price for money with concomicant destruction to all the manu facturing and mercantile interests of the country causing wide-spread ruin and devastation, which mushave ended in general bankruptcy save that as early a Oct, 23, 1847, three years after the reorganization of th Bank, she suspended specie payments and issued as inconvertible paper, which afforded instant relief, to the business and people of England. Nov. 9, 1857, the Bank of England again suspended spaces payments after having ruined the merchants and business of all England in her attempts to sustain herself and drawing the gold from this country for and drawing the gold from this country for the same purpose to such an extent as to cause a suspension of specie payments here, with ruin to nearly all the mercantile houses, manufac-turers, and bankers of this country. Her efforts to save herself from suspension and to retain her gold were so energetic and persistent that between April, 1887, and January, 1858, she made eleven changes in her rate of discount, and in the year 1858, to retain her specie in her vaults, she changed her rate of interest five times in five weeks. Still sg im, in November, 1886, in consequence of the war on the Continent of effectual struggle to maintain her gold in her vault by quadrupling her rates of discount, suspende payments. This failure of the Bank of Engl ecause our currency in 1866 was the greenback, and

How shallow the conclusions which this statesman " reaches when it is shown that they rest upon pure fiction. It is idle to suppose that Gen. BUTLEB could have been so gnorant as not to know the groundlessness of his assertions. The limitation on the Bank circulation compels the Bank in times of stringency to restrict its loans; when this limitation is suspended it reduces the rate of discount by unloosing the specie of the Bank locked up in the issue department. But such thing as a suspension of specie payments which Gen. BUTLER properly defines as a "failure," has never been contemplated or authorized, and has never taken place since

BLACK HILLS ROMANCING. As an Eldorado the Black Hills country has not proved a success. The only paying thing about it, as near as we can dis price which the Indians had the effrontery to emand for a cession of their rights. There was one other feature which came very near eing fabulous, and that was the price which Government Commissioners offered them. The Indians wanted $70,000,000 and the Commissioners offered $6,000, 000; one was a little more out the way than the other, but not much The Government might just about as reasonably pay the Indians $70,000,000 for the ces of exclusive privileges granted by the Government, of no value to them, in exchange for other exclusive privileges, as to pay $6,000,000 for this exchange. On the whole, we regard it as fortunate that the Indians were so outrageously exorbitant in their demands; for, if they had anywhere within the neighborhood of the commissioners' offer, we fear the barte would have been made, and at least $6,000, 000 in money, if not more, would have been thrown away, in addition to the enormou expenses already incurred for exploring Prof. JENNEY's mature judgment, after patient and laborious exploration of the territory, is, that the Black Hills are no worth more than $500,000 for purchase out right. That is, an individual or company esiring exclusive privileges for mining night possibly make it pay after purchasin at that rate. The Government Co offered twelve times that amount simply as ar inducement for the Indians to move a little further back into a country much better suit ed to their purposes.

prrect when he says that those who hav made the Black Hills a study during the ummer have estimated their value—that is hills themselves, and not including the $100,000; and that the price of $6,000,000

dicial procedure by which it is almost impos- of hands through which the sum would have sible to have a suit decided upon its merits to pass before reaching the Indians, and the wear and tear it would suffer from the friction in the contact. Even those who have read the accounts of the exploration printed in THE TRIBUNE and other journals that have given impartial, uncolored, matter-of-fac descriptions, can understand that the acquisi-tion of this territory is not very desir-able at any price. It may be wild and romantic, with an occasional oasis in a desert of mauvaises terres and ungainly hills. There may be an occasional grand sight, attained at the cost of great physical exertion, that brings its reward only to those of a romantic turn. There may b gold enough there to reward those who are willing to work at ordinary day-laborer's wages. But no trustworthy account has come from the Black Hills that warrants any higher estimate of their advantages. Prof. JENNEY himself says that the country is more valuable for stock-raising than for its min erals; but, as we have abundance of good stock-raising lands nearer the centre of consumption, it is not worth while to spend any trouble, much less any money, upon the Black Hills for that purpose. There is only one way in which the money already expended by the Government in the exploration of the country, and in treating with the Indians, ever can be made a profit able investment, -and that is, by the practical abandonment of the whole scheme of dislodging the Indians by the payment of any There are two courses that may be pursued, viz : Either to keep out the whites altogether, and leave the Indians to their hills, rocks, and bad grounds, or to let the white men go at their own risk, giving them such protection as is ordinarily furnished in Indian territory. It doesn't make much difference which course is pursued, as there is no mineral wealth or other attraction which will justify the Government in any further expense to acquire the territory.

THE REPORT ON INDIAN AFFAIRS.

The report of the Commission appointed to investigate the management of affairs at the Red Cloud Agency is interesting. On the principle of saying "nothing but good of the dead," Ex-Secretary DeLano is let off very easily. The report says that he seems to have been innocent and ignorant of fraud. This is a polite way of saying that he was grossly incompetent for the place from which he has happily been driven. A man who could be ignorant of the frauds in contracts which were daily reeking under his very nos must have been obtuse to a frightful degree But we have no wish to hunt the ex-Secretar now, to lift him out of the home in which he may be honored, and hold him up before the nation that honors him not, Let us adopt the charitable surmise of the members of the Investigating Commission; say, with them, that not a guilty knowledge, but a guilty ignorance, of the frauds marked the ex-Secretary's career.

The part of the report which censures the ex-minister, ex-speculator, and present Com-missioner-of-Indian-Affairs Smith, for want of vigilance, lack of astuteness, and indecision of character, will be read with hearty approval, inasmuch as even Smith must fee called upon to resign when he has thus been bulletined as utterly unable to fill the office which he now rattles around in. A new Sec retary of the Interior, one ZACHARIAH CAANDLER, honest and intelligent, reigns instead of DELANO, and there should be a new sioner of Indian Affairs straightway. Let us be charitable again. SMITH may no have been corrupt, but simply stupid. There

The value of the investigation is shown by the fact that the Commission's report ends by urging twenty-five distinct referms, some of them comprehensive as well as important, in the mana ement of Indian afairs.

MORE MONEY FOR BUSINESS

It has been already sated in this paper that during the last yearten of the banks of this city had sold the arge sum of $418, 000,000 of exchange. Tlat is to say, payments of that much money were effect through the agency of bills of exchange drawn by these ten banks upon the banks out side of the city.

We submit this fact to the careful consid ration of the gentlemen who insist that more money is needed to meet the requirements of trade. Here was an actual payment made of four hundred and eighteen millions of dol lars through the banks of Chicago without the employment of a single dollar of currency. According to the inflationists, should have required an amount of green backs equal to the whole of the present outstanding issue to meet the requirements of the trade of Chicago alone without leaving a dollar for the other parts of the country !

If this volume of Chicago exchange multiplied by that issued by the twenty-five hundred of other banks in the United States, some idea may be formed of how compa atively small is the amount of currency quired or employed in the cash transactions of the country. This amount of cash pay-ments was made by Chicago to other parts of the country. Other payments, as by checks and by postal orders, probably nearly equaled n amount those made by remittance rency. The local payments equally show how small a proportion of currency is needed. The bank charances in this city will average $23,000,000 a week the year through, and the aggregate payments made from person to person the banks by checks, amounts to nearl twelve hundred millions of dollars a year And these payments are made without the actual transfer of currency beyond the small item to adjust the balances from day to day. According to the inflationists, to enable the people of Chicago to to their ordinar ss,—that is, the payments they have make in this city and other parts of the cour try,-would require sixteen lundred million of dollars of currency, when, in fact, the all these transactions will not reach 10 per cent of the whole amount of the payments.

Mr. WENDELL PHILLIPS, in one of hi letters on finance, proposed to supply the country with currency in such an amous that bills of exchange shal be dispe with, and all payments made in money. wild character of this proposition but illus trates the whole of Mr. PHULIPS' teaching on finance. To dispense with bills of ex-rency would require more railroad facilities than are now needed to perform the postal service of the country. If for every bushel of grain or pound of provisions sent from Chicago and sold the money had to be sent here, and for every dollar's worth of goods purchased for Chicago the money had to be sent back, would require that special money-trains should be run over every railroad in the country. At present all this payment is made with the actual transfer of but a small amoun of money, and it is done rapidly, safely, and satisfactorily, which could not be the case if the money had to be shipped to and from in every transaction.

THE AFCIIC EXPEDITION. Scarcely has the news come to us of STAN LEY's remarkable explorations around the great Lake Victoria Nyanza, directly under the burning equator, before almost equally interesting news comes from the frozen Arctic regions, by the return of the little British vessel, the Pandora which left England three months ago to try to make the Northwest Passage from Baffin's Bay to Behring's Straits, discovered by Sir John Frank LIN a quarter of a century ago, the attempt to follow which cost him his life. The rec ord of this little vessel, of the dangers which she encountered and the manner in which she escaped them, reads almost like fiction. Although she was constantly among the ice floes and exposed to danger, she met with n mishaps, made her passage with remarkable swiftness, and returned in safety to England. The object of her commander was not to reach the highest possible northern latitude, but to make the Northwest Passage, and this object he would probably have accomplished had he not found his further progress effect tually stopped by a solid wall of ice across Bellot Strait, at the very point where Mc-CLINTOCK, his old commander, was stopped at the time he discovered the Franklin relics. He took the same route as McCLINTOCK,

crossing Melville Bay in safety after leaving

Upernavik. Thence he entered Lancas

Sound, visited Beechy Island, where Ross ill-fated vessel was lost twenty-five years ago, thence sailed through Peci Sound, and kept on to Bellot Strait, where he found the impassable icy barrier which induced him to return to England rather than winter there. Although foiled in his attempt to make the Northwest Passage, he penetrated to the south along the coast of Prince of Wales' Land further than McCLINTOCK had done, and even reached King William's Land, where no vessel but FRANKLIN's has ever been before. The details of the voyage, therefore, will be looked for with great interest, and may perhaps throw some further light upon the fate of FRANKLIN. The indirect results of the expedition are even more interesting than the direct, since the Captain of the Pandora was successful in finding letters at a spot previously decided upon from the other two glish vessels, the Alert and Discovery, which are in quest of the open Polar Sea. The news from them is highly encouraging. The two vessels arrived at the Carey Islands July 27, and then left for Smith's Sound. They left Upensk July 22 and Cape York July 25. The best news from them is that the season was an open one, and that all were well, so that if nothing adverse has overtaken them they are now far on their way to the North Pole. The great Polar mystery, therefore, may yet be solved by these daring English navigators. It is an eloquent tribute to the ambition and courage of the time that, while the explorers of one nation are steadily and perseveringly pushing their way through the eternal snows and ice of the Arctic region to root out the mystery of the Pole, undismayed by the fate of those who have pre ceded them, an explorer of another nation is ust as steadily and perseveringly braving the langers of the African jungles, the malarious eases, and unknown savage tribes under the equator, to solve the mystery of the sources of the Nile.

The action of the Bishop of Montreal in rarning his constituents not to interfere with the b ria of Guibord's remains is very commendable, but the additional intimation, that the ground will be cursed as soon as poor GUIBORD's much-abused body is placed in it. is such a childish and empty form of religious spite that it will probably only create a smile of derision. It will make little difference to GUIBORD. He will rest just as quietly in the ground, whether cursed or uncursed. He is eyond all theological hatreds. It will make little difference with GUIBORD's friends, but if it affords the Bishop any satisfaction to curse the clods of the valley which cover him, t is an easy and efficacious way of settling this long and disgraceful wrangle, and hurt no one.

The issue of veracity between Mr. ALEXANDER umstances which led to the closing of the School f Natural History on Penikese kept open. In a recent letter to the New York Evening Post, Mr. AGASSIZ denies that any tens were taken towards the closing of the school without the knowledge of Mr. ANDERon; or that an attempt was made to lay th atter under permanent and heavy contribu support of the school; or that the nemory of Prof. Agassiz has suffered by the conduct of his coadjutors and successors. Mr. Agassiz further states that Mr. Anderson had reely offered to give $10,000 per annum e years to the support of the school, and tha he failed to keep his promise. The character of Mr. Agassiz is so high that his statements of fact will be generally and immediately accepte true, nor can it be doubted that he h all the personal and pecuniary sacrifices on be quired of him; but it does seem that the realthy and liberal men of Boston bave be omewhat slow in responding to a prop mand on them, which might easily have been of the very promising enterprise at Penikese. The British and Foreign Anti-Slavery Soc recently sent a memorial to the Lords of the Admiralty protesting, in the name of humanity against the instructions issued to the command-ers of British ships in regard to the reception of foreign slaves on shipboard. In acknowledging the receipt of the memorial the Secretary of the Admiralty curiously enough remarked: "My Lords desire me to inform you that a copy of your memorial has been transmitted to the Sec-retary of State for Foreign Affairs." Now the question arises, is the Secretary of State's office

Springfield, Vt., lays claim to the pos of a successful co-operative factory. It is owned by the persons who work in it. All of them live in one large house. Men are required to save one-fourth of their wages and w sixth. These savings are invested in capital stock. A Board of Directors fixes the wages of each member. Any one can withdraw at any time, and can sell his stock at par to the society by giving six months' notice. The experiment is only a year old, but it has thus far bee very successful. The company began with five members; it now has forty five. Its sales—of toys and house-fur nishing goods—amount to $3,000 a month, and its capital is increasing at the rate of $5,000 a year. We trust the c ation can give as favorable an account of itself two and ten years hence. Too many such organizations have thriven for a tweeve-month or so and then collapsed, to make the experience of a year conclusive. Even "Brook Facm" flourshed for a while.

The election excitement having subsided, th innati authorities are providing against a elapse of their town into its wonted dullness. The jackass that kicked the lion to death ha departed this life, and the escaped tigress which the shooting-club chased through the impenetrable jungle surrounding that burg has been slain, but the Zoological Gardens are still inted upon to furnish the thrilling sensation which shall keep the Cincinnatians from falling asleep at midday. They announce, therefore with becoming pride, that the alligator, re-ported to have escaped to ravage the adjacent regions, has in fact only sought retirement in the muddy depths of the park lake, from whence he is to be fished out; the baboon tha s ckeued through over-much tobacco-chewing is to be reformed; the other baboons are recovering from the epizootic; and the stuffed donkey (is it from the Enquirer's collection) is promised at an early day. Exciting times may be expected at Cincinnati.

All that the setter lacks to make it thoroughly good is todisputable evidence of the correspondent's veracity Blood-drinking has gone out of fashion. It haid to believe, as the corres ondent alleges that the slaughter-houses on East Forty-seventh street are frequented by bevies of beauties, or that it is a common thing to see fifteen person at once holding their silver cups for draughts of warm blood. If this is not a fancy sketch, the fachionable people of New York a e in sad want of sound medical advice. The human stomach is not so constituted that it can digest warm blood by the pound; and the patient who re sorts to such treatment for the cure of one com plaint is likely to sow the seeds of another much more serious and painful.

The Hartford Courant, edited by Gov. Jos HAWLEY, makes this survey of the results:

The Ohio election has very thoroughly cleared the field of available Democratic candidates for the Presidency. According to the present outlook, the chances of Sensior Earand are better than those of any other man, unless, indeed, the Democracy, funitating their tactics of 1872, the ld decide to nominate Gen. Grany or Roscow Conzilno. Gov. Thiorn's chances are hardly worth mentioning, sithough ne is an estimable gentleman, and (since a quirring immerises wealth as saccessful railroad lobbyist and general jobber) has excome an active reformer. But Gov. Thiorn is ruled out of the Presidential race by locality. New York nominated McClarlian in 1864, and the Democratic and dates in 1863 and 1862 were from the same State. It is not within the range of probabilities that the crize will sgam be survendered to the New York Ring. But, fitter all, Senstor Bayand is a stronger man than Thiorn, and has a more honorable record. HAWLEY, makes this survey of the results:

THE AMPHION QUARTETTE CONCERT.
The new quartette organization recently ned in this city, styled the "Amphi (Mr. W. E. Foote, soprano; Miss Clara E. lingar, alto; Mr. W. H. Stanley, tenor; and Mr. E. C. As a quaristic, the combination promises well; as soloists, however, the promise is hardly so ample, athough it is only fair to give them the allowances of a partly filled hall and of very hard and accompaniments. The quartette needs mash practice yet and more care as to the balance of voices before it can attain to vary great resulfs. EI-SENATOR CHANDLER.
Special Dispatch to The Chicago Pribune.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 19.—Ex-Senator Chandler, of Michigan, in response to a persona nvitation of the President, called at the White House this morning at 10 o'clock, and at 12 o'clock, in the President's room, he took the oath of office as Secretary of the Interior. He will to-morrow enter upon his new duties, and loes not expect to leave the Department except for sufficient time to bring his family from Michigan. Chandler last night, in denying that which was strictly true. The President, it is understood, did telegraph to Chandler from Chicago, requesting the latter to meet him at Pittsburg, which he did. But Chandler still insists that the President spoke no word to him upon the subject until this morning. Chandler is not so young a politician nowever, that he could not TAKE A HINT, and it is well understood that he has been con sidering such an invitation possible since Saiurday last. The President did not send the telegram from Chicago to Chandler until after it had been dempitely settled that J. Russel. Jones would not accept the office. There seems to be no secret of the fact that the Cabinet position was first offered to Jones, and then to ex-Senator Scott, or Penn-Jones, and then to ex-senator scott, of Pennsylvania. Jones is understood to have declined it because he prefers his present position as Collector of the rort of Chicago, because he has no amoution for the Secretar, sailp, and because he does not care to live in washington on the salary of a Capitet omcer. It was nourly expected here during the presence of the President in Chicago, that a selection would be presented directing. that the name of J. Russell Jones be meeted in the black commission prepared here. It appears that some formally declined the office when the President was as Chicago. It is understood that the President bad then offered it to min for a second time. Scott, or Pennsylvania, is believed to have declined it beautic ved to have decimed it because HIS PROSPECTS WELL BETTER

Gen. Cowen, who is also an intimate personal friend of Chandler, is likely to be continued as Assurfact. Necretary. The to be continued as Assistant Secretary. The very important office of Solicitor of the Interior Department is vacant, and it is expected that a lawyer of sminence will be asked to accept that position, as the new Secretary is not himself a lawyer. A competent adviser will be necessary, as the Secretary of the Interior is required to decrease the secretary of the Interior is required to as the Secretary of the Interior is required to decide intricate questions of land, mining, patent, pension, and corporation law. An appearance to him from the decision of the Commissioner of Pacents, of Pensions, and of the General Land-Office, and at such times the Secretary of the Interior sits as judge. There is a vast amount of business accumulated for the action of the new Secretary. Indeed, the snure Department is clogged, as it has been practically without a head throughout the summer. Pension-certificates and land-patents by the hundreds await signature.

HOW THE NEW TAX LAW WORKS.

Special Dispotch to The Chicago Iribune.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 19.—Treasury officials are positive that the effects of the new Tax law of March 3, 1875, will not be appreciable for some months to come. They claim that the Government has not yet received the full tax of 90 cents per gallon upon any considerable quan ti-ties of whisky. Two months before the act passed the distilleries were operated to their nt most capacity, and immense quantities were bonded to escape the increased tax. The change in the bill after it was introduced in the House, by which an additional tax of 15 cents per gallon was imposed upon all whisky in bond, resuited in large withdrawals from bond. In Feb

which is ever $4,500,000 in excess of the receipts for the same month of the preceding year. The result was that, while large quantities of spirits were withdrawn from bond and thrown upon the market, the place of that withdrawn was filled by new whisky, thus doubly providing for overstocking the market with spirits on which the old rate of tax could only be assessed and collected. The February receipts show very plainly that an immense quantity of spirits was thus placed on the market, and the receipts of the Treasury Department show that, on March 3, when the act became effective, there were in bond 7,988,666 gallons of whisky, upon which the additional tax of 20 cents per gallon could not be imposed, thus establishing the fact that every means possible was employed to

ANTICIPATE THE INCREASED TAX.

Before the passage of the bill the provision taxing whisky in bond was stricken out, and all whisky produced prior to the passage of the act made exempt.

This is also true of tobacco. It became known to manufacturers that an additional tax would be imposed on manufactured tobacco and cigars, and the enormous increase in the receipts for tobacco and cigars stamps in February to 34,804,-266, from $2,643,935 in February, 1874, shows to what extent these manufacturers provided against paying the increased tax. The receipts from the same source for the two preceding months. Those who think that there should have been an increase of several million dollars during the four months ending June 30 last will be sur-

Of the stock in bond on March 3, 1875, there have been withdrawn up to Oct. 1, 5.117,000 gallons, leaving yet on hand to be withdrawn under the old tate of 70 cents per gallon, 43,000,000. Since March last the average number of gallons of whisky withdrawn monthly, upon which the former rate of 70 cents was paid, was 731,000 gallons.

There are various rumors affoat in relation to the origin of the fire, but it seems to be a tolerably well-settled fact that it started in Peter Owens' saloon, near the lower end of Main street, on the south side. All efforts to check the flames were unavailing, and in the course of half an hour every building from Bovie's store to Sommer Camp's saloon, on both sides of the street, was consumed. The estimated losses of some of the parties are as follows: William Hardiman, $25,000: Tom Kittle, $15,000: William Hardiman, $25,000: David Dorsey, $10,000; W. V. Boyle and Brown & Herman, but they, too, carried out their merchandise, much of which is damaged and some of it missing. Together with the miners who occupied the boarding and lodging-houses, there must be in the neighborhood of 400 people houseless and homeless, among whom are several families. SECURE AND PROFITABLE.

Investments Which Have Proved Altogether Desirable.

Certificates that Have Won the Esteem of Holders Everywhere.

In his plan of investment certificate, which it shall be THE TRIBUNE'S pleasure to describe, Mr. Sydney Myers, Manager of the Mer chants', Farmers' & Mechanics' Savings Bank has secured a form of investment profitable and onvenient to the bank as well as to its depoi itor, and one which receives the warm com mendation of so though ful and industrial ublication as the Safeguard, of New York, one of whose editors is Emerson W. Keyes, for man rears Deputy Inspector of Banks in New York.

What is described as an investment depart ment is opened in the bank named. The depositor therein receives, instead of a book-credit, a financier, authorizes an investigation into th resembling a United States cond, and it may be registered if desired. It is issued in denominations of $100, $500, and $1,000, all bearing interest of 7 3-10 per ceut, payable quarterly,—that is, on the latings of February, May, August, and November. For each $100,000 of such certificates issued by the bank there is transferred to a Trustee some $100,000 of mortgages owned by the bank, upon property worth not less than three times that amount. The security, absolute at that, is, therefore, CERTIFICATE OF INVESTMENT, that, is, therefore, $3 ron $1.

The Trustee who holds this security countersigns the certificates, the holders of which have practically a real estate security for their money. The bank does not reserve the right of calling in and paying off the certificate which money. The back does not reserve the right of cailing in and paying off the certificates, which may, therefore, remain an investment in perpetuity. The holder, however, may demand their redemption whenever he sees fit to do so. Ordinarily there will be curreacy in the hands of the Trustee to take up and cancel the certificate. Should it happen that he is out of funds, the holder may demand his security instead of the currency, and the Trustee will be obliged to give him securities as past the sum of obliged to give him securities as near the sum of his certificates as possible, the difference in currency being paid by the bank or the credito as may be necessary. This is a general idea of this nine plan. The fingal and thrity patrons of satings banks will look into the details for themselves.

It is gratifying to see a savings-bank manager looking to new directions for the means of averting the evils inseparable from a panic or ruo, whether that evil comes in the form of a sacrince of securities, or the less objectionable, but still objectionable, form of a reases to pay in the usual manner, or without profice."

It is gratifying that such a savings-bank manager is a Chicagon, and one with so fair and excellent a repulstion as Mr. Myers. It was he who ventured successfully upon securing tost decideratum for a man of limited means in a city whose fire-limits are practically co-extensive with the boundaries of the city, an ABSOLUTELY FIRE-PROOF DWELLING that may be erected cheaply. That subject need only be cursorily alluded to, as it is very generally understood, not only in this city, but, such was the wide interest in the experiment, in all the large cities of the Union.

The theory and practical working of the investment department of the Merchants', Farmers' & Mechanics' Sawings Bank, No. 75 South Clars street, should be thoughfully considered. Its advantages are obvious. The certificates have now been issued over two years, and they are ranked to-day among the very soundest securities to be found in any fluancial market. Such complete security and generous interest are to be found in no other current form of investment.

THE GENTLEMAN'S GAME. The Famous Brunswick Billiard Hall

To-day the largest and most beautiful billiard hall in the world will be dedicated to the gentleman's game. The famous old resort, Nos. 122 124, and 126 Washington street has been fitted up anew by Mr. Emanuel Brunswick, more elegantly than before, and stocked with twenty one tables from the celebrated factory of the Branswick Bros. Stephan & Hart Company, the superiority of whose wares is generally acknowledged. Among the number embraced in the hall are seven tables (4½x9) of new and original design, just parented and for the first time placed on exhibition before the public. They are called "1be Champnon." Their merit consists in the fact that the legs, which are iron of unique design, are so placed that the weight of the table rests equally on each, thereby preventing the possibility of sagging or unsteadiness. They are marvels of beauty, and billiard experts are ioud in their praise. The other fourteen are of the handsome bevered style, size 5x10. The great hall is newly frescoed in bright colors, and is lighted by the largest chandelier in Chicago. Everything is new about the establishment. Between 12 and 3 to-day ladies will be allowed to inspect the hall. After 3 o'clock, the gentlemanly experts will wield the cue. superiority of whose wares is generally acknowlwill wield the cue.

This contract, which ought to explain itself, was never examined by the Commissioners, and is not found in their report. The day was enceedingly fine,—one of October's best,—and the general trade of the city was entirely attisfactory. The retailers of dry goods and what may be called "shop articles," or rather those for which adies "shop," had a very acce table benefit. The wholesale trade is uniformly active. But at the banks there was more quiet than usual for several days post. Discounts to customers were freely made at 10 per cent,—the legal rate. The quiet with most of the banks was very acceptable, for they have discounted for country banks and city customers so freely that they feel it necessary for the time being to increase their reach resources. The Directors of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company held a meeting this afternoon, and ratified the sale recently negotiated of four of their old wooden side-wheel steamers (the Costa Rica, Oregonian, Golden Age, and Nevada), to the Militza Bitsche Company, of Japan. This Company receives a subsidy from the Japanese Government, and represents it. The steamers soid were run between Shanghai and Yokohama nopposition to a line of the Militzy Bitsche Company, their present purchasers. The Facinc Mail lost on his line last year nearly $200,000. The price obtained for the steamers was $700,000 in Mexican cilver, quivalent in our currency to nearly $300,000. The ale furnishes the Pacific Mail Company with means o pay all its obligations except the loan of the Panama infraed, and places the Company in a better financial condition than for years past. The Militza Bitsche Company offers to run the steamers bought so as to onnect with the main line of the Pacific Mail. yesterday from the tone of the day preceding. The principal cereals were heavy and provisions firm, but there was more disposition to ship grain at lower prices to meet increased costs of transportation. The chief interest now centres on freight rates. They have not yet been advanced (by water routes) to so high a point as to prevent shipment, though the forward movement received a temporary check, and a fair de-mot yet been advanced (by water routes) to so high a point as to prevent shipment, though the forward inversement received a temporary cheek; and a fair demand for freight-room has followed the temporary dulines thus produced. Vessels were in moderator equest to load in Chicago, and in rather large demand from Milwankee, where shippers are waking up into activity. The grain-dealers there recognize the visdom of clearing out the bins before commencing on winter storage, and it would be well if ours follows suit, a Ristle isd own now in the mather of prices, to invite shipment, would do no harm to the owners of grain which will seek a market later in the year. New York is disposed to weakness on breadstirfs, partly in sympathy with Chicago, while the British markets are sustained by the stiffening in freight rates; but the istate do not invite shipment so forebyle as herestore, the recent advance having increased the volume of breadsturf is motion towards European ports.

There was decidedly more doing in the dry-goods market. The attendance of buyers in person did not show any very marked improvement, but the mail or der business was largely increased, and a large aggregate of sales was accomplished. The changes in groceries were few, being confined to an ye reduction in coffee sugars and a ½c advance in alignice and popper. Coffees were firm, as were also rice, sirups, spices, soaps, and candles. There was a free call for imported dried fruits, but the movement in domestics continues slack. Prices were quoted at 8½ decreased in the summary of the section of the stiff of the section of Hay was in demand for local use and shipment to the lake ports, and tolerably steady. Broom-corn con-tinues fairly active at the quoted prices. Poultry was dull and weak under large offerings of stale stock Game was also slow and easy, the supply on sale bein demand and moderate supplies. MYSS FORK - Was in good demand, and advanced 5@ 15c per brl, the greatest strength being on lots for de-delivery this month, though little was wanted for shipment. BREADSTUFFS.

FLOUR—Was quiet, with little change in prices, except that rye flour was easier. One round lot was wanted for shipment at $5.25, which was refused; outside of that local desiers were the only buyers, and the market ruled tame in sympathy with the easier feeling to what. Sales was reported of 200 byts witers on in wheat. Sales were reported of 200 bris winters on private terms; 1,050 bris spring extras at $5.26.6,6.12%; 160 bris unsound do at $5.12%; 255 bris rye flour at $4.1564.62; and 55 bris buckwheat do partly at $7.00. WHEAT—Was rether more active, and very unset-WHEAT—Was rather more active, and very unsettled, but generally weak. The market fell off 1/gc per but on November delivaries, 2c on cash No. 2, about 3c on Ne. 2, and 3c on rejected. This, too, in the face of advices of continued strength in Liverpool. New York was quoted dull and heavy, but that market never opens till after ours has started, and it often takes its tone from Chicago. It undoubtedly did so yesterday. The receipts here were large, both per as and as compared with the shipments, and the advent of mer weather led many operators to expect larger receipts in the future. The short interest seemed to

at Ashtabula, has been gotten off and is now at that jort loading with coal for Chicago,.... The tug Aoh was at Erie Friday afternoon from Long Point, and reported that the prospect of releasing the barge Hannaford was good, but that the barge Belle Carle was too far dishore to be gotten off this fall... The saft Fancies Berraman, to and down from Chicago, arrived in Milwankee Monday afternoon minus her yawl, and with damaged rigging.... The saft Gilmore, loaded with lumber from Muskegon to Oawego, went ashore at the head of Belle Island Saturday, and the tug Favorite was sent to pull her of.... The Detroit Poet states that a settlement has finally been consummated between the insurance company and Mr. Daonst, in ragard to the bark Fannie Campbell, which went ashore last fall in Georgian Bay. She got off subsequently, and has been thoroughly repaired. Mr. Daonst accepts the vessel, and the insurance company pays all re, sirs... Very careful observations, m.de by the United States Lake Survey officers with the hydrometer, show that the yolume of water passing down the St. Lawrence River greedly exceeds that passing through the Detroit River. As there are no large streams entering the lakes between the mouth of the Detroit River and the head of the St. Lawrence, it is a very interesting problem as to where this surplus of water comes from ... The Cleveland Leader states that thus far only one appropriation has been made by Congress for the Cleveland Harbor of Refuge, the sum being $50,000, and that has not been used up yet. The contractor who has the work in charge says that if he works during the winter the amount will be used up by the 1st of next June. dempily; demand moderate; aboulders offering at clear ribsides, itc. on the Government and the rate of 5 per cent. The amount outstanding is $194,896,300. The coupon and registered bonds are of the denomination of $50, $100, $500, and $1,000. The face of the bonds of $5.000 and $10,000. The face of the bonds is designated by the words "Five per cent loan, under act of March 3,1864," and "Redeemable after ten, payable forty years from take."

The act of March 3, 1885, authorized the borrowing of a sum aggregating not more than $600,000.000, the main purpose of the act being to convert Treasury-notes and some other outstanding obligations into the bonds authorized by the set. Under the authority of this act bonds were sold for money and assued to the value of $203,327,750. These bonds bear 6 per cent interest, payable the 1st days of May and November, The principal is redeemable at the pleasure of the Government after five years, and payable twenty years from date. The amount now outstanding is $132,331, 530. The bonds have printed on their face the words, "Redeemable after five, and payable twenty years from date." and "Act of March 3, 1853," by which they are distinguished from the consolidated bonds issued that year and known as "Consols of 1865," These bonds will probably be the next called for conversion. brough the newspapers to the financial condition of the National Treasury. The bonds known in the market as "ten-fortles" were authorized by the act of March 3, 1864. The amount authorized was $200,000,000, and the whole amount issued $196,117,300. The act authorizing this loan provides that it may be redeemed in ten years, but makes it payable in forty years from date; which makes these bonds redeemable at the pleasure of the Government after Feb. 28, 1874, and absolutely payable March 1, 1904. The bonds bear interest at the rats of 5 per cent, payable on the first days of March and September, except the bonds for $50 and $4100, the interest on which is payable annusly on the footenment list, and is the only war lout the bonds of which bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent. A case of alleged gross and heartless neglect on the part of the suthorities of the County Hospital is reported. About one week ago a man named Edward Murphy, who had come to the city from the South on a visit to his relatives, was taken seriously ill and removed to the County Hospital. Notwithstanding his repeated requests that inform I on be sent to his relatives, who live at No. 83 Bonfed a treet, they did not learn of his condition until last briday, when, on calling withe hospital, they found to their surprise and grief that he was dead and buried. After some further inquiry they learned that Murphy had died on the previous day, and had been buried immediately, his corps being hustled, without any clothing, into a rough box. The relatives of the decased are naturally indignant at this alleged inhuman treatment, and are anxious to have the hospital authorities investigated.

Whittle and Bliss be invited to come and inaugurate the work of revival in this city. In accordance with this action, Mr. J. V. There is no dount but that the evangelist will accept the invitation gladly, but it is not possible yet to fix the exact date of his return, as his work in Minneapolis has only just commenced. Meanwhile, a strong sfort will be made by the local ministers to set the ball rolling and create a greater interest among the church members. Indications of the approaching revival are already to be seen in the larger attendance at the regular church meetings, and moticeably in that of the noon prayer-meeting in Farwell Hall. The meeting in that place yesterday was more than usually crowded, and after the regular services, eight persons strose and asked for prayers. THE GRAND JURY.

NOTHING DISCOVERED YET.

The Grand July yesterday continued the farcical investigation into the alleged bribery of certain members of the County Board in the letting of the contract for the foundation of the new Court-House to Mr. Harms. C. F. Periolat, Sheriff Aguew, and a Times reporter were the witnesses, the former appearing in obedience to an attachment issued the day previous. Their testimony, as might have been expected, amounted to nothing. They were all as innocent as lambs of written on the subject had been at the dicuation of the management of the I ince.

It is very singular in this investigation, which has now been in progress nearly a week, that the witnesses examined have been of the know-nothing order, when it has been in the power of the jury at any hour to reach the author of the charges, who is supposed to know whereof be wrote. Another strange feature is the fact that although a subpeans was issued for Mr. Wilkie, the writer of the article complained of, either it has not been served, or he is allowed to disregard it. While it is doubtful whether there is anything in the charges of the Times, the conduct of the jury or its officers in the matter has been trifling and inexcusable, giving the public reason to question its sincerity and earnestness in the work. Mr. Wilkie is believed to know whatever there is of truth or fallaty in the charges, and the case with which be could have been secured as a winess, and the fact that he has not been secured as in nowise creditable to the jury, the State's Attorney, or the Deputy in whose hands the subpeans was placed several days ago.

MARK SHERIDAN.

LITTLE TALK WITH THE MAYOR Mark Sheridan, the silent and mysterious President of the defunct Police Board, has lately fallen into the habit of calling in daily at the down-town resorts, where his face used to be as familiar as that of the man where his face used to be as familiar as that of the man in the moon in the almanacs. Shortly before retiring into private life, Mark had become painfully talkative, and objectionably so to the present party in power. They had hoped that his reticence in private life would curb his tongue on political subjects as well, and thus he would naturally fall back into his silent, sphynx-life manners as in days gone by. And so, when Mayor Colvin met the smitting Mark a few days ago, he greeted him very cordially, inquired after his good health, sho that of his family, wished him much prosperity, and all that sort of thing. But Mark resented the compliment in the most imperative manner. Taking a few backward steps, he gazed directly into the Mayor's face, and said: "I have nothing but good health left; you have deprived me of everything else." One word brought on another, the charter election frauds were discussed in the warmest manner, the accusation of fraud in the fixth Ward returns was vigorously resented by Sneridan, the course of the Board of Police was subjected to criticism, and so on until a street scene between Colvin and Sheridan was imminent.

turn the matter over to a set of expensive lawyers to fight and combat in a giadiator show before the Supreme Court of the State. This is the true Democracy of the present day. No Diogenes need how about, and go live in a tub. In the e-ection this fall Hesing will be victorious. Look at the men who are to count the ballots for the proof. In the election next fall Mike McDonaid will carry the town. Everything goes in rings. Marriages and political mesalliances are bound by them. Joe, give me another cider, "and a little later the cynical ex-President was shuffling along Clark street, h s brows lowering on Colvin's castle, and the close observer might have heard mutterings of "Row I wall tan your hide when I get on the stump."

AMERICAN POLITICS.

COMMENTED ON BY DANIEL DOUGHERTY.

Mr. Daniel Dougherty delivered his second and last seture in the Star Course, on "American Politics," at the Union Park Congregational Church last evening After several selections excellently rendered on the organ by Mr. Louis Falk, the lecturer was introduced lew nest and appropriate remarks by Mr. Alex-Sullivan, Secretary of the Board of Public Works. Mr. Dougherty, after a brief introductory began his theme. He alluded to the past history of ou great Republic, when genius and intelligence, as well as probity of character, were the rejusites in order to d public office. Later the thing was entirely nged. Over all the land stalked corruption, each hold public office. Later the thing was enure; changed. Over all the land stalked corruption, each day exposing some new defalcation among the chosen of the people. Now the funds of a county were embezzled; anon, a Sizte official was detected it malfeasance. The speaker mentioned New York, other cities, and, in fact, every State and city in the Union, especially the Southern States.

Statesmaship was debauched by an ignorant herd of manumitted slaves whose mockery of administration would have provoked laughter had not their oppression outraged civilization.

The lecturer pictured the politicians of the present day as those frequenting pot-houses, and having no honor, no character, being merely pliant tools in the highest bidder, as justices of the peace without justice. He also gave some descriptive and amusing pictures of this class, which were heartily appreciated by the audience. The lecturer held that the life of the Republic, and the maintenance of free institutions, depended on purity in politics. The corruption now rampant must be checked, or size like France as an Empire the Government might become a thing of the past. He then showed where the remedy lay—with the people, who had full control of office-seekers and office-holders. If they exercised their great prerogative, the ballot; if infunctial and honest-men interested themselves, and did not lend their name to anything that was questionable, then would the great result be gained, then corruption would cease in Congress and in every other branch of Government, and throughout this great and glorious land.

STATISTICS OF ITS PROGRESS.

A meeting was held last evening in the Lutheran Church on Snell street, near West Chicago avenue, in the interests of the German Young Men's Christian Association. The services were mainly of a devotion cter. An address was delivered by F. W. Con rad, D. D., of Philadelphia, editor of the Lutneran Ob-server, upon the subject of a profession of faith. He read, D. D., of rimaterplas, chief of the basic server, upon the subject of a profession of faith. He said that this profession involved "what must be believed," "what must be done." These three points were developed in a very sole manner. Dr. Conrad is an American by birth, but he speaks the German language with cutire case. His influence as edites of the leading Lutheran paper of the country, and as a speaker who travels much and addresses anchences regularly in both languages, is very great, and it was clearly apparent in the meeting last night.

At the close of his remarks John Stadler gave a report of the German Young Men's Christian Association honovention recently held in Toledo, which he attended as a delegate, Although the Association had been in existence but a year, it already numbered 287 organizations, and had a membership of nearly 6,000.

The meeting last night was the first held in the northwestern part of the city. Hereafter they will be held in the lower room of Farwell Hall, the next to be on the evening of the first Monday in November. The organization will act in conjunction with the Young Men's Christian Association, of which it is a part.

To the Editor of The Chicago Tribune .
OHICAGO, Oct. 19.—The controversy going on in this ORIGAGO, Oct. 19.—The controversy going on in this mation about the right or wrong of retaining the sible in our public schools is becoming interesting. In my opinion, to turn the word of God out of the schools at the bidding of those who do not believe that it is the word of God would be an eternal shame. The Bible is not a sectarian book. A book that is the foundation stone of so many sectarian builders cannot be called a sectarian book. If the Bible is sectarian, then God is sectarian. The sun and the common shame. The Roman Cutholies are as afraid of their own Bible, as they are of ours, and keep the light of the Lord from the poor perishing ones. It is remarkable that in all Catholic countries the mass of the people do not think for themselves, but let oththe light of the Lord from the poor perishing ones. It is remarkable that in all Catholic countries the mass of the people do not think for themselves, but let others do their thinking. That is one of the principal reasons why they have so strong a tendency to go down into darkness. If we would judge the tree by its fruits, we should do better. It is the millstone about the necks of France, Italy, Spain, Ireland, Mexico, and other nations that is dragging them down to the depths of the sea. They have offended, burnt, and treated shamefully too many little ones. If the Catholics not love the Bible, the most legitimate thing for them to do is to wait (0, what an eternal waiting) till they get the power, and then put us on the rack, and make us do as they want us to do, as they alwas have done when they had the power. If we were like them, we should do to them as they do to us, but we have a much better way. For a few millions of Catholics and infides (which is about the same thing in another word), to say to us, "It makes us feel bad to see that radiant book on your desks, and to adommodate our defiled conscience we want you to take it away, notwithstanding, in doing so, you trample on the pure conscience of thirty millions of people," is a shameful thing. And for us to obey, I repeat it, would be an eternal abane! for us to obey, I repeat it, would be an eternion of the state of the timony, as might have been expected, amounted to nothing. They were all as innocent as lambs of any information on the subject, the former denying that he had been pedding Harms' note, the second that he knew anything of Harms' purchasing the notes of any of the Commissioners, and the latter, while writing some of the charges, that he knew anything of their basis, explaining that whatever he had written on the subject had been at the dictation of the management of the 'innes.

It is very singular in this investigation, which has now been in progress nearly a week, that the witnesses examined have been of the know-nothing order, when it has been in the power of the jury at any hour to reach the author of the charges, who is supposed to know whereof he wrote. Another strange feature is the fact that although a subpeans was issued for Mr. Wilkie, the writer of the article com-

One word brought on another, the charter election frauds were discussed in the warmest manner, the accussition of fraud in the Sixth Ward returns was vigorously resented by Sueridan, the course of the Board of Folice was subjected to criticism, and so on until a street scene between Colvin and Sheridan, who was as cool as a ceucumber, assailed the Mayor right and left about the thievish City Government, who were continuing themselves in office through a fraudulent election, and tyrannizing over the people who find been duped into putting them into power. Just as the scene was sit biggest, and seemed likely to culminsts in a fistic encounter, Henry Greenebaum interfered, and demanded that the conversation should be changed, and accordingly inquired as to progress on the new Custom-House. The Mayor barely answered the question, and took Henry to one side, leaving Sheridan to go his way in peace.

J. H. Howe wants to move away from N- 46 South Desplaines street. Between 6 and 7 o'clock ass even-ing sneak-thieves entered his apartments and took bout $70 worth of clothing.

Hall & Co., clothiers, on South Clark street, yester day complained that during Monday evening burgiars entered their store by lifting a scuttle on the side-walk, and then cutting through the floor from the base-ment. About $160 worth of clothing was carried off. The police at the Armory were yesterday informed of one of the largest of the many small burgiaries that have taken place in this city during the present season. The victim is Dr. Walter Hay, whose office is at the corner of State and Mouroe streets. All the valuables of the family were stored in a safe in the office. Sunday night burgiars entered, forced the safe, and abstracted $.50 worth of jewelry and other valuable trinkter.

Detective Dargon has thus far recovered about $2,500 worth of property stolen by the gang of thieves whose leaders are at present confined in the Armory. The gang is much larger than was at first supposed, and are no doubt responsible for the numerous "cracking" exploits that have been perpetrated along the avenues during the past summer. The days of the rest of the gang are numbered on the detective's finger-ends.

SUBURBAN,

LAKE VIEW. The Board of Trustees held its regular meeting Mon-day night, all the members being present. Petitions were received for t-inch water pipes on Donning treet, from Seminary avenue to Halsted street, and or Seminary avenue between Wrightwood and Fullerton avenues. Thus, the first petitions for water come from the very locality where most of the opposition was manifested at the inception of the undertaking. Ordinances were adopted in accordance with the Ordinances were adopted in accordance with the prayer of the petitioners. Other ordinances were adopted for the introduction of water-pipe as follows: For a 6-inch pipe on Sheffield avenue from Helmont avenue to the Green Bay road; for a 4-inch on Lincoln avenue, between Belmont and Fullestion avenues; for a 4-inch on Diversey avenue, from Halsted street to Sheffield avenue. These latter will be put in whenever the assessments can be collected.

A petition for a sidewalk on Lill avenue, from Sheffield to Seminary avenue, was granted, and an ordinance therefor drafted.

Applications for appointment as Inspector of Water-Pipe were received from J. L. Burrows, of Ravenswood, and William Lewis, for eight years assistant Engueer at the Chicago Water-Works. The applications were referred to the Supervisor, with power to employ. The same gentleman was instructed to purchase a steam gauge for pipe-jesting machine.

The grading and cin learing of Sheffield avenue from Wellington to Belmont avenue was let to Hansen & Fountain for 30 cents per foot, and on the same avenue from Belmont to the Green Bay road, to L. Kennedy, at the same price per foot.

The Board then adjourned to meet Tuesday, Oct. 26, for the opening of bids and award of contracts on the pumping-works.

The opening of bas and award to the browning works.

The engineer is running the lines up north for pipe trenches, and the contractor will be in his wake before the week closes. The machine for testing pipe will be ready to -morrow, and the pipe are expected daily. The assessment for a pipe will range from 40 to 60 cents per foot, according as there are not, or are, corner lots with two water frontiges. In the latter case the corner will pay only for its main front, and the other front will be distributed among the inside lots on that line, bringing up the cost to the higher figure given above. Even at this estimate the tax on a 25-foot lot will be only $15, and will not bear heavily on the smaller property owners. iax on a 25-foot lot will or only ex-heavily on the smaller property owners.

"Saddlerock" Smith and Joseph Kohier, the saloon-men, are circulating for signature petitions to the Governor saking that so much of their sentence as re-ference of the sentence of the sent lates to free quarters at the public expense be dis-pensed with by executive elemency. It will next be in order to have the $20 fine raised.

Gen. Robert Lowry, and W. L. Nugent, held an inter view with the Governor on Thursday. The itizens, in response to the fears expresse by the Governor, that peace and good order would not be preserved, and that the colored men would not be permitted to vote as they pleased, assured the Governor that there was no other desire among the whites than that peace should be preserved, the laws enforced, and fair elections had. The leading whites had all along inculcated this, and they also assured the Governor that they would pursue this course until the election, and would, both by precept and example, do all in their power to preserve page and good order, and severe a fair election. and example, do all in their power to preserve peace and good order, and secure a fair election. Gov. Ames promised that, in view of the statement made by the citizens, he was willing to meet their views as far as he could, and to that end he promised that he would order all the militia companies which had been organized to disperse and go to their homes without their arms; but, on further consultation, it was agreed that the arms of the several companies organized should be deposited in depots in the neighborhood in which the companies were raised, and should there be guarded by United States troops, to be detailed for that purpose, and to be under the control of the Governor, and to be removed only on his order; or, if the United States troops could not be gotten, then the arms were to be gnarded by men selected by the Governor and Gen, Geogre; that the arms would not again be delivered to the militia, except in the case of a riot or insurrection, which could not be suppressed by the civil authorities. pressed by the civil authorities.

DEFALCATION AND DISAPPEARANCE Correspondence of Phr Cascago Prisume.

Broamore, Ill., Oct. 18.—Quiet an excitement was caused on Wednesday of last week by the udden disappearance of Mr. Charles Cornelius Cashier of Plerce & Dean's Bank. An investiga business shows a deficiency of about $1,600. A horough investigation of his accounts is now being made. Mr. Cornelius is a man of more than ordinary ability, having received a liberal education. Previous to his coming to Sycamore, he was employed in a bank in Fenton, Mich., he was employed in a bank in Fenton, Mich., which position he left, and for about a year studied for the ministry. Not liking the profession, he again turned his attention to banking, and soon obtained a position with Pierce & Dean, where he has been employed for the last six years. He was considered a good, quick, and reliable accountant, and the rapidity with which he handled money gave him the name of "Spinner." by which he was known here. None could boast of more friends than "Spinner." In secret societies he was very popular; was Secretary of the Sycamore Lodge A. F. & A. M., and belonged to both the Chapter and Commandery here. He was also Past Nobe Grand of the Sycamore Lodge I. O. O. F., and last spring was elected City Clerk, and was also one of the Directors of the Sycamore Driving Park Association, and as an officer was well liked in all the different positions he held. No one can account for his lesving with so small a sum. He took no clothing with him, except what he wore, leaving a gold watch and chain, all his jeweiry, and about $500 worth of notes, stocks, etc. He had recently become quite dissipated, but never neglecued his business. Why he should leave in this manner none can tell.

THE ABORTION-MURDER CASE AT TORONTO.

New York Herotd.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 17.—Considerable interest as been aroused, not only in Toronto, but throughout the Dominion, by the arrest, early in August last, of Arthur Paul Davis for the murder of Jane Vaughan Gilmour, by procurement of malpractice resulting in death. Davis previously held out as a medical specialist in Rochester. Buffalo, and other cities in the United States, and has in past years several times escaped well-earned punishment for his practices. Some two years are no ecame to Toronto, where he has been allowed to advertise himself in a manner usual to specialists of his class.

On the Sist of July, a pine box containing the nude body of a young woman was found in a secluded epot on the outskirts of the city. It was identified as the daughter of the Rev. Mr. Gilmour, a Baptist minister, laboring at present in Muskago, she having come to this city a short time before to reside with some friends here. By a long and singularly complete chain of circumstantial evidence, her death has been laid, by the hands of the law, at the door of Davis and his wife, who yesterday were sentenced to be hung on the Sth of December cext.

The trial has been going on all the week, and has been watched by the public with most intense interest, as the escope of Sparhame and Graves from the gallows on a similar charge, at Brackville, some mouths ago, by commutation to the Penitentiary for life, had aroused a feeling of pretty general indignation against those found guilty of practicing the docestable crime. The court-room has, therefore, been packed to its utmost capacity during the whole trial. The prisoners were defended by the ablest nisi-prius lawyer in Canada, Mr. M. C. Cameron, and the case for the Crown was conducted by Kenedy McKenzie, Q. C., not much inferior in ability.

by Kenedy McKenzie, Q. C., not much inferior in ability.

The evidence showed that the deceased had been seen in Davis' house shortly before the finding of the body; that the prisoners gave orders for making the box in which it was found, it being identified by the maker; that, on the night previous to the finding of the body, Mrs. Davis and an unknown party were seen at various points between Davis' house and where the body was found, and afterwards were observed driving a wagon with such a box in it; that, a few davs before this, loud but parially-stifled screams were heard to proceed from Davis' house. When the body was found it was considerably decomposed, though it was identified by friends of Miss Gilmour.

The medical testimony was, as usual, somewhat contradictory, but, in general, it tended to show that mechanical appliances had been the cause of death. It would appear that the intention of the parties had been to bury the body in show that mechanical appliances had been the cause of death. It would appear that the intention of the parties had been to bury the body in the sand-pits near which it was found, but having been frightened by a man discharging a pisiol on his way home,—he having just purchased it and wished to test it,—they had to leave their work unfinished. Another circumstance which, being added to others apparently trifling, but forming links in a continuous chain, brought the crime nome to the guilty parties, was, that nothing was placed with the corpse in the box but some broken straw, and some exactly the same was found scattered around on the floor and in an open mattress in the room of the prisoners, they not having had time to remove these and other evidences of guit before arrest. Articles of wearing-apparel and jewelry belonging to deceased were also found, apparently secreted in a hurry, not far from Davis' house. These and very many other such coincidences came out during the trial, making it altogether one of the most remarkable cases of circumstantial evidence in the annals of Canadian crime.

most remarkable cases of circumstantial evi-dence in the annals of Canadian crime. dence in the annals of Canadian crime.

The jury retired last night at 5 o'clock, and in one hour and a quarter returned with a verdict of guilty against both prisoners. Justice Morrison, in pronouncing sensence upon them, held out no hope of reprieve, and, though some think the sentence will be commuted, it is very improbable. The Government will not risk going in the face of the strong feeling which exists, that this detectable crime should be stanned out. ould be stamped out by Davis'. The demeanor of the prisoners when sentence was pronounced, as throughout the trial, was without appearance of emotion.

The Major was a native of New York, and

The Major was a native of New York, and in the early part of the War became constitutions as a partisan commander of the Union forces in North Carolina. He was a perfect athlete, a splendid horseman, an accurate shot, and as daring and unscruptions as any man who ever drew a sabre. For his services he was appointed, at the close of the War, a First Lieutenant in the regular army, and assigned to duty in the West. By the services he rendered against the Indians, aided by more or less politic I influence, Lieut. Graham soon became a full-blown Major, and as such became a special favorite at Fort Leavenworth and in the city of that name. While at this post he paid his addresses to one of the most attractive ladies of Leavenworth, and it was only by an accident that the marriage was not consummated.

The night previous to the day on which the ceremony was to take place, the commanding officer at Fort Leavenworth received direct instructions from the War Department to place Maj. Graham in irons, and keep him in solltary confinement till further orders. Although the order created an immense surprise at the fort, it was literally obeyed, and Maj. Graham found himself in a facor's cell, instead of occupying, as he had hoped, a bridal couch. A court-marrial, however, subsequently explained what seemed at the time to be inexplicable. The evidence before the Court established the fact that Maj. Graham, while wearing the honorable uniform of an United States officer, had been the secret head of a band or horse-thieves in Kansas; had also, while in Utah, been in leagues with the lowest class of gamblers and thieves; and that he had systemstically stolen and sold horses from the stables of the Government. The court-marrial sentenced the Major to be dishonorably dismissed from the service, be debarred from ever holding any office of honor or trust under the Government, and to serve a term of ten years in a military prison. Through some unknown influence this sentence was indoresed only so far as it related to the dismissed of fluence this sentence was indorsed only so rar as it related to the dismissal of the Major from the service.

As soon as he was in possession of a qualified freedom, the Major started for Denver, and here became, as of yore, the associate of evil and dangerous classes. His first attempt at public robbery was made on Paymasser Brooks at River Bend. For this offense he was tried and sentenced to two years in the Pententiary. Before his term expired he organized an escape which proved partially succeesful. We say partial because ne and his associates made good their escape, but they were all subsequently captured, one of them being killed, and the Major himself severely wounded. He served out the rest of his term, and when released went to Rosita, where he opened a whisky-den. It was probably here that he arranged, with others, the jumping of the Pocahontas mine. The "jumpers" kept poesession until day before yesterday, when all the miners in the neighborhood resolved on clearing the mine of its fraudulent possessors. How this was done the dispatches tell. The Major was caught on his way to Rosita. On being halted he turned to run, but fell dead in his tracks, pierced by some twenty-five balls. Graham's partner, a man named Boyd, was arrested shortly afterward, and is likely hung before this. The r st of the "jumpers" have been arrested, but as to what disposition will be made of them we have as yet no means of knowing.

hand a small paper package, which subsequent events proved to contain a pistol. Arriving down-town she proceeded to Dr. Sibley's resi-dence (where Clark formerly boarded) and inat the church at work, she went directly to the at the church at work, she went directly to the building. Mr. Clark was at the time of her arrival engaged in placing the jois's for the second floor. Airs. Clark entered the basement, and looking around for Clark, saw him on the joists some 10 or 11 feet above. She unwrapped her paper parcel, remarking at the time: "Wells Clark, I've give you warning—now I've got you." She then presented her pistol and sought a good opportunity to shoot Clark between the joists. Clark saw his danger and drew a pistol and fred. Reports are somewhat conflicting as to she fired first, the reports being almost simulianeous. Mrs. Clark's builet struck a joist and rebounded to the floor. Clark about three times. The first shot was a miss, but the other two took effect. One entered Mrs. Clark's forehead just above the left eye, and, taking a downwarb course, came out almost through the eye. The other entered the forehead near the edge of the har and ranged backward along the scalp. After the firing Mrs. Clark sank down, and was helped to Dr. Vertrees' office by Messts. MoNely and Clodfelter. With their aid she was able to walk, notwithstanding the loss of much blood, and had faith to believe that she would live to again make a target of Mr. Clark at some future time.

At the Doctor's office she stood the necessary cutting and probing for the bullet with much nerve. The larger portion of the bullet which went under the scalp was extracted. This bullet was flattened and separated into a number of small pieces. The skull was laid bare where the ball had struck, but not broken. From the Doctor's office Mrs. C. was taken to Mr. G. C. Goldburg's boarding-house, where she was comfortably cared for.

For several weeks past Mrs. Mary Clark has been in town at different times. On Monday of last week she visited the woolen mills where Mrs. Kate Clark, Clark's present wife (to whom he was married Oct. 3), is employed. She was around the mills several times for the purpose of attacking or making touble with the present Mrs. C., but Mr. A. H. Baker, the superintendent of the mills, would not allow her to enter the factory. She came again in the evening while work was going on, but Mr. J. A. Blackburn, the night watchman, being warned by Mr. Baker, refused to allow her to enter the mills. Mrs. Kate Clark runs two looms and is required to pass back and forth in front of two windows. Fearing that Mrs. Mary C. would shoot her through the windows at night, she kept heavy curtains hung before them, so that her movements and position could not be seen from without the mills. The affair of Friday indicates that these precautions taken by herself and Mr. Baker were prudent, as otherwise she might have been the next victim of Mrs. Mary's vengeance.

The weapon used by Mrs. Clark was an oldstyle, single-barreled self-cocking pistol, which she secured at Enfield. It is strange that a woman as intelligent as she is would go into an affray of this kini with such a poor weapon. Mr. Clark shot with one of the smallest revolvers known to the trade—a cartridge pistol carrying a ball of 21-100 calibre—being about the size of a two-grain quinine pill. Clark's pistol was one of the kind which an Eastern youth once exhibited to a Colorado bioueer. The Western man (who carried two large navies), liquired what it was. Being told that it was a pistil, he remarked that if the Eastern chap "ever shot him with it, and he should find it out, he'd tick him like smoke."

The shot which entered just above the eye and passed out was doubtless received while Mrs. C. was looking downward. The other shit was probably received when the attack was first made—at about the same time she shot at Clark. One of the joists shows the indentations made by Mrs. C.'s bullst and from which it rebounded to the floor. It was afterward picked up by some of the workmen.

On Friday evening we called to see Mrs. Clark and found her getting along finely under the circumstances. One half her face and nead was covered with cloths, but her visible eye was bright and she was able to talk as ra idly and energetically as ever. She had much that was bad to say of her late bushand. She says she has joined him in many crimes, and that he is resoonsible for her wong-doungs. She is evidently not of sound mind. She says that when in Texas and other distant States (Clark being in Illinois) he would pinch her hands and feet at annoy her in many ways, and she concluded that she would kill him to prevent his thus following her around and disturbing her. rengeance.

Mr. Mosher's Art Deception. Mr. Mosher's reception at his photographic parlors, No. 951 Wabash avenue, last evening, was a brilliant success. It will be repeated to-morrow evening. What was most admired was his new design of a perfect photographic, au-tographic, and biographical album, which he has just patented. Nothing more lovely for a Christmas present can be imagined. So thought the ladies unanimously.

Well Pone.

With the view of affording to every one who owns a good watch a perfectly safe and reliable place to have such articles promptly and properly repaired at a reasonable price, the well-known jewelry house of Hamilton, Rowe & Co., corner State and Washington streets, have taken particular pains to secure workmen especially skilled in the difficult and delicate task of watch repairing, and it is therefore unnecessary for any one to have their valued timepiece spoiled by incompetent workmen, if they only take the pains to place it in their hands.
